

Astropack

Coming to Canada & Australia!

December 4, 2017 (Leiria, Portugal). Nom Nom Games Lda. has the pleasure to announce Astropack pre-launch for Canada & Australia, starting on December 6th. This universe most fabulous astronaut is coming to your phone for this exceptional pre-launch in your country. Don't miss out on the occasion to show the world how fabulously good you are before everyone else. Just try to not die along the way though.

I mean, imagine an astronaut leaving his space station for some outside mission, when suddenly, his jetpack goes out of whack and propels him into an intergalactic vacuum... Now you are this poor guy, trying to survive in space while dodging things such as comets, black holes, missiles, and whatever the universe has in store for you.

A bit similar to a good old snake game, it is based on your ability to dodge obstacles thank to your zigzagging around, and your score will be dependent on how long you survive as well as the combos you've done. As you improve, your level rises and new elements appear, such as beautiful skins you can collect.

To be able to have a score that will be enough to collect these skins, you have to dodge black hole after black hole, comet after comet, missile after missile and even shoot the obstacles, to create the best combos the void of the universe has ever seen.

On a lighter note, during your interstellar journey in the void of the universe you'll even get to see beautiful planets such as Mars, most likely just before Mars kills you because everything wants to kill you and an Astronaut wouldn't survive being hit by a planet!

If you want to change things up and relax for a while, you can try the mini-game and control a ship...

...with weakass shields...

...So you can't actually relax and you have to run for your life around those goddamn missiles and comets and whatever that just keeps chasing you!!!

Damn it they got me. Oh well.

Astropack is currently available in Portugal, Finland, Netherlands, Hungary, Israel and Mexico for Apple Store, Google Play, Windows Store and Tizen store.

About Us:

Nom Nom Games Lda is a young independent studio developing, creating and distributing video games on any platform (console, pc, smartphone / tablet and web). Although we do not have many titles attached to our name yet, we hope to quickly delight players from around the world with unique videogame experiences.

Contact:

You can contact us by sending an email at contact@nomnomgames.net or follow us on Instagram, Facebook and Twitter.